

- Samtools mpileup estimates the probability that each base in the preliminary assembly is correct, given the reads that map to it.
- bcftools call determines if the reads provide support for a different base at any given position in the assembly, based on these probabilities.
- The output is a list of positions in the preliminary assembly that should be changed, in the “variant call format (.vcf).”

